CONTAINERIZATION

It's a long word, and considered a modern word: containerization, meaning the art of dressing up standard goods like soap or cosmetics or other familiar items with new boxes, cans, bottles in all manner of materials and color.

But it is not so modern. People have been shouting "demon rum" and pointing to brown bottles of various kinds for centuries.

But we are finding out the "spirits" are not released because they are put in. They are consumed because society does little enough to deal with reasons people turn to the stuff in the first place.

Evil spirits are mostly ignorance and the inability to recognize the reasons for remote or escapist behavior.

The real world is real, all right, and if you don't have a grasponyourself and what you know you are, it isn't hard to fantasize through "demon rum", if only a little bit, or to take other peculiar turns which, if drinkers took them would be considered drunk. All kinds of neuroses are more permanent "drunks". The drinker always has the same problems the next day. Maybe worse.

I'll be an example. I walk up to four or five miles a day because:

ONE-- I think on my feet, and

TWO-- I release tension that might otherwise might not find outlet. I also get exercise. I've found hitting a tennis ball several hours on a weekend is relaxing.

So golfers golf and fishermen fish and drivers drive and drinkers drink.

It's all part of a release, some more damaging than others.

"Demon rum" in the brown bottle is only part of society's problem. More than what's in a bottle, it's what is in us that turns us off or on.

Camp Home Featured On Folk Fete Tour

The Camp home at 2005 N. Harding is another point of interest on this year's Folk Fete tour.

The home was built 21 years ago of Arkansas ledge rock brought in by truck. Mrs. Camp had to take a course in Austin to learn how to lay the ledge, and then teach the technique to the builders.

One outstanding feature of the house is the heating and cooling system which was installed before the foundation slab was poured. While in the service Mr. Camp studied various heating systems and the one used in the house was adapted from those in use in the Philippines.

Air circulates through the floor and ceiling through ducts run to all parts of the 5800 square foot house. Return ducts are in the attic, which makes all parts of the house evenly heated and cooled. When built this feature was so new that builders and architects from Dallas came down and took pictures of the layout. It includes an electronic system that works through ducts to remove dust and allergenic products.

The house has a master lighting panel in the master bedroom that shows whether lights are on or off throughout the house.

FOLK FETE BELLES Gwen Chancey, Marilyn Hauk, Deborah Threadgill and Bonnie Ball join Mrs. Emory Camp at the antique walnut bar that is a feature of the Camp home. The modern style home will be open to the public in Folk Fetes pilgrimage tour on June 10.

DRUGS CONFISCATED following an arrest of two 18 year old Cameron youths are shown by City Patrolmen Frank Kovar, Wayne Brinkley, Sgt. Ken Butler and Police Chief Felipe Martinez. Charges have been filed in District Court against Danny Bradley of 801 E. 15, Cameron, on four counts of burglary in connection with breakins at Dusek's Pharmacy, Royal Seating Corp. and Mack's Oil Co. The recovered goods included some 4,092 capsules and pills and three containers of sodium phenobarbital powder, among other drugs.

Cameron Man Killed In 2 Car Mishap

A Cameron man was killed about 5 p.m. Monday near the Loop 123-US 77 intersection just south of the Milam-Lee County line in what Texas Highway Patrol officers described as a "two-car, non-contact accident."

Pronounced dead at the scene by a Lee County justice of the peace was Morris Spriggs of Cameron.

The accident occurred when a car driven by Clarence Mitchell of Cameron swerved to the left to avoid a vehicle driven by Ruby Newman of Lexington, who pulled onto US 77 northbound from Loop 123, an investigating officer said.

The Mitchell car crashed into a concrete culvert, the officer said. Mitchell was taken to Lee Memorial Hospital in Giddings, where his condition was listed as good Monday night. He has head and shoulder injuries.

Spriggs' body was taken to Phillips and Luckey Funeral Home in Rockdale.

Cameron Loses Bid For Regional Berth

Cameron Yoemen lost a chance for a berth in regional baseball playoffs when a 10th inning score gave Bastrop the bi-district crown Tuesday night.

The Yoemen had won the first of their three bi-district playoffs against Bastrop Saturday night in Elgin with a 4-2 score. John Barron was winning pitcher.

But Bastrop came to Cameron Monday night to upset the Yoemen with a 8-3 win. Bastrop pitcher Carrejo was credited with the win and Lonnie Scott was losing pitcher.

Tuesday night's game saw Carrejo on the mound again, but following 7 scores for the Yoemen in the second inning, one on a walk and one on an error, Bastrop substituted Runkle who was credited with the win.

Cameron scored 5 hits in the second inning with John Barron, Ricky Sapp, Whiteside, Mike Trdy and David

Absentee Voting Open For June 3 Run-Off

Absentee voting in the June 3 primary runoff opened Wednesday and will remain open through May 30, the Milam County Clerk's office reported.

Persons who will be out of the county June 3 or who are unable to vote in person should vote absentee.

At stake in the June 3 runoff are U. S. Senator -- Ralph Yarborough and Barefoot Sanders will be on the ballot for that post. Also for governor, Frances Farenthold and Dolph Briscoe; and for lieutenant governor, Wayne Connally and Bill Hobby.

Other races in the runoff include that of comptroller of public accounts, James Wilson and Robert S. Calvert.

In county races, Adolph Gresak and Albert (Red) Abel face each other in the race for commissioner of Precinct 1. R. C. (Red) Richards of Rockdale and Gerald (Bigun) Vinton of Milano are in the runoff for commissioner of Precinct 3.

And incumbent constable of Precinct 1, J. M. Terry, is up against Claude C. Bailey in the runoff.

In the May primary election Gresak drew 323 votes to Abel's 175. Two other candidates drew 188 votes. Richards lead the vote count for Commissioner Pct. 3. Vinton drew 783 votes and three other candidates in the race divided 879 votes and three other candidates in the race divided 879 remaining votes.

In the fun-off for constable, Pct. 1, Terry and Bailey will be viewing 1, Terry and Bailey will be vieing for 423 votes that went to Eddie Huntsman, Jr. in the May Primary. Terry polled 577 votes and Bailey 521 in that election.

Milam REACT

Rest Stop Helps

Holiday Drivers

Milam County REACT Club will sponsor a rest stop over the long Memorial Day weekend about 2 miles south of Cameron on Hwy 36. The stop will be open from 6 p.m. Friday, May 26 until 6 a.m. Tuesday, May 30.

This is the third time in less than a year that the REACT Club has undertaken a rest stop to offer motorists a free "wake-break" from the hazards of holiday driving. In two previous rest stops (Labor Day and Thanksgiving) they served over 5,500 cups of coffee, over 3,000 Cokes and many thousands of cookies to well over 4,000 weary travelers with home addresses as far away as California, New York, Mexico City and the Philippine Islands.

But the stand is really more than a rest stop. REACT members, all Citizen Band radio operators, install a Citizen Band monitoring station at all their rest stops to help nearby travelers who find themselves in trouble.

In the two previous rest stops more than a dozen calls have come to the REACT members for help in the form of gasoline and auto parts.

And besides helping stranded travelers and serving much needed coffee to voyagers, the rest stop gives local club members an opportunity to explain REACT. Members who have manned the previous rest stops say that one of the first questions asked by travelers is "what is REACT." The initials stand for Radio Emergency Associated Citizens Teams and the purpose of the national association is for teams to volunteer their assistance and provide two-way radio communications in local emergencies.

The local REACT group was formed less than two years ago. Since that time it has grown from a handful of interested citizens radio operators to its present membership in Milam County of around 40.

Resolution Asks Span Dedication

Milam County Commissioners approved a resolution requesting the bridge spanning the Brazos River on FM 979 be dedicated in honor of State Senator William T. (Bill) Moore.

The bridge, which replaced the old Black bridge, was first authorized in August 1966 at the urging of Sen. Moore. It was completed August 13, 1971 to connect Milam and Robertson Counties.

Moore represents the fifth Senatorial District.

3 Charged For Hearne Murders

Three persons wanted on warrants for the murder of the H. C. Kelly family of Hearne were in the custody of Oklahoma City police Monday night, Texas Ranger Capt. E. G. Albers said.

A fourth suspect, Robert Duron, was found shot to death Saturday about three miles from Oklahoma City.

Kelly, a Hearne banker, his wife and his daughter were found about 2 p.m. Thursday stabbed to death in their home.

Warrants in the slaying were issued last Friday but the names were withheld until they were in custody. The suspects arrested are Lee Murray Jurode, John Edward Swift and Mary Brown.

New Olympic City Towers Over Munich

By John Chadwick Reuter Correspondent

MUNICH

A new Olympic city, of tinted glass and steel, towers like a space-age fantasy over the outskirts of Munich.

And Bavarians preparing to play host next August at Germany's first Olympic Games since Adolf Hitler are still arguing whether the style is right and the price too high.

A huge plexiglass roof soars and swoops over the main stadia in a series of eccentric curves. Transparent panels will protect spectators from glare without affecting color television pictures. They will automatically spring open in case of fire and smoke.

The adventurous structure, supported by stout steel hawsers from 12 leaning pylons, rises 216 feet at its highest peak above the deep diving pool.

Most Bavarians call Prof. Gunter Behnisch's concept an engineering miracle. Others less complimentary have compared the 92,000 square yards roof to a collapsed circus tent.

"Exciting yes -- but beautiful? Well, that's another thing," said one of the thousands of visitors who crowd the Olympic complex at weekends.

And it's a hard fact that the cost of the roof has jumped from the originally estimated $5 million to a staggering $50 million.

Steel-hatted construction workers in special suction boots walk like flies over the shimmering roof to complete the main stadium in time for a soccer match between West Germany and the Soviet Union. Some 195 feet below there is already a lush green look about the pitch, heated with subterranean water pipes.

The airy swimming hall contains two extra full-size practice pools underground.

A weird red and black structure at one end of the hall puzzles many visitors. "It's actually a restaurant," said Miss Annegret Winkel, one of the pretty young Olympic guides. She admitted one visitor had compared the strange building to an oil refinery.

The gymnastic hall, dominated by huge air-conditioning pipes and metal catwalks for cameramen and lighting, has a science-fiction look.

Outside the stadium, express lifts speed visitors at 20 feet a second up a 950 feet high steel television tower from which the Olympic city looks like a map with moving toys.

Some 8,500 men from 20 countries put the complex together. The landscaped artificial lake and open-air theater were constructed by immigrant workers from Turkey.

Rolling hills separating different areas of the Olympic site are also artificial constructions. Their hard core is rubble from Munich left behind by the heavy bombing of World War II, in which nearly half the city was destroyed.

Trees are being planted on the hills by delegations from competing nations. This unique park will eventually include cedars from Lebanon, English Oak, Belgian poplar and Canadian maple.

From the center of Munich, a brand-new underground railway runs to the stadium. It cost $42 million to build. The city itself has undergone a massive improvement scheme.

A network of traffic-free walkways connects the cathedrals, ancient palaces and beerhalls of the Bavarian capital. Music is piped into spacious underground shopping centers where the tourist can buy anything from German sausages to antiques.

To Test New Ground...

To win, it is not so much how hard you can deliver, but how much you can absorb before delivering the telling effort.

Better yet, to triumph, to more than win some exchange is to convince an opposite that another way is better, maybe because its time has come.

When maturity and reason fail, exasperation and ego take over.

Instead of using weapons to hunt with or develop a skill with, men use weapons to extend the ground they defend, like wild aborigines under attack by predators, or predators defending ground the aborigines wander through. Men shoot and stab others out of fear or exasperation.

Sometime civilized men are exasperated and a time comes when they need a little walk toward the horizon we all view. They might waste time with pointless argument and indifferent projects, but they sometime like a closer look at the way things are.

When things become a bit easy, it is time to test new ground.

The Golden Years...

With construction underway on a new medical clinic here, the push across a broad front of new facilities for new service in Cameron is just about complete.

First the hospitals, then the resthomes, one now expanding and now a medical center is abuilding for doctors at the site of the old St. Edward Hospital.

This is only one area, but a critical area of need in this Milam County seat, medical services. Two hospitals, two resthomes and a medical center later, we see the need met.

Additional destruction work and relocation are underway throughout the downtown area. It is encouraging to see these things continue.

The greatest breakthrough has been in the minds of people here, both native and recently arrived. They are seeing what intelligent co-operation can mean after perhaps a half century of seeing little new construction.

The reinvestment phase of modern Cameron and Milam County is underway. A team of Georgia farm extension service people will see the results of a three-year pilot program in Milam County. Resistance to new and necessary direction in agriculture is also past.

The new clinic is a sign of attraction for additional medical skills. And this is only a beginning. Numerous other things will fall in place as the basic and near-basic needs of people are met.

Schools will move into enrichment programs beyond pure basics as facilities and faculty improve through an all-sports program, music and art interests, technical training and the other modern things met by a growing community's growing needs.

It is good we can write of all these things. Remember these years, for they are the golden years of a revitalized Cameron and Milam County.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

Every once in a while somebody comes up with a new idea, and I found one last night buried on an inside page of a newspaper where I had gone to get away from the turmoil on the front page. I don't mind reading about a problem bad enough to get on the front page if it has an answer, but most of the problems being headlined today don't have any answers.

Anyway, a town, I forget its name, has passed an ordinance limiting the telephone calls telephone salesmen can make. If you want to sell something by phone, you have to buy a permit and can call only on weekdays from 8 a.m. to noon and 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. Violators are subject to a $200 fine.

This is a step in the right direction but it doesn't go far enough.

What we need -- and I haven't worked out the details on it yet -- is a law preventing anybody from calling anybody else unless the called person wants to be called. I don't remember the figures but I remember reading a while back the number of telephone calls made each year in the United States and it runs into the billions and billions

I estimate that fifty percent and maybe three fourths of those calls were to people who had just as soon not be called, some particularly at the time and others not at all.

Now the problem for Congress is to figure out a law that prohibits unwanted telephone calls.

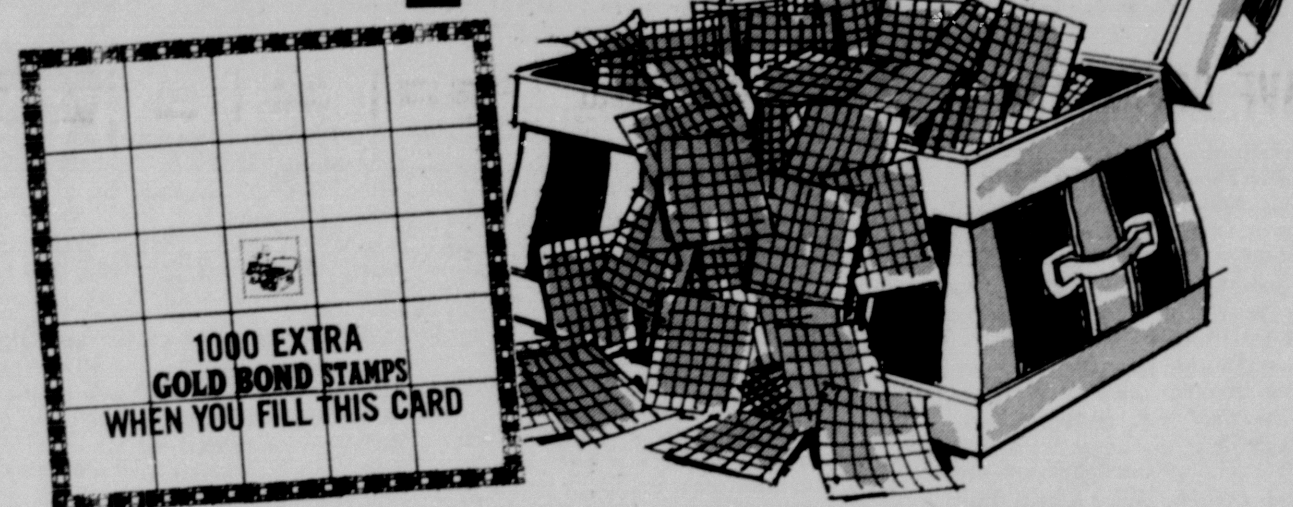

I don't see how members of Congress can do it, but it'd give them something to do to get their minds off all those other problems they can't find answers to either.

Meanwhile, if you want to develop strength of character, the next time your phone rings just sit there and let it ring till whoever's calling gives up. If you can resist the temptation to answer, you have conquered one of man's major frailties. Excuse me, I've got to stop, the phone's ringing.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Learning To Swim Makes Good Sense

More than half the 7,000 drowning victims in the U.S. each year couldn't swim 20 feet to save their lives. These drowning victims were only 20 feet from safety and yet couldn't make the distance, according to James U. Cross, executive director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. "Three - fourths of the earth's surface is covered by water," said Cross. "It stands to reason that you're going to come in contact with it some time. So it just makes good sense to learn to swim." Cross said swimming could not only help you live longer, but it could also help you enjoy life more. "If you can't swim, practically the whole world of outdoor recreation is closed to you," he said. "By learning to swim, you trade your fear of water for a healthy respect for it."

Rains Return To Most Of State... Texas Is Number Two In Cattle Feeding... Wheat Crop Up 24 Per Cent... Peaches Five Times More Than In 1971...

Rains from the High Plains to the Lower Rio Grande Valley are providing a better outlook for agriculture in the state now. Planting of cotton, corn, sorghum, peanuts, and soybeans was delayed. The rains were too late generally to benefit the wheat crop, and hail and flooding damage to cotton and sorghum occurred in the Gulf Coast and Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Cotton planting throughout the state is nearing the 50 per cent completion figure. Rains and hailstorms destroyed or damaged cotton fields; fleahoppers and weevils have been increasing in the southern half of the state.

Corn planting is virtually completed. With the exception of a few areas where rains fell too hard, the corn outlook is generally described as good. Sorghum planting is more than half complete.

TEXAS continues as number two in the cattle feeding industry with 1,848,000 head of cattle and calves on feed for slaughter market. The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes this is 18 per cent above a year ago but only slightly below the number on feed a month ago.

The only state surpassing Texas in cattle on feed is Iowa. That state had 2,003,000 cattle on feed, which is one per cent above a year ago but three per cent less than the number last month.

A 24 PER CENT increase in the state's wheat production is now in prospect. Texas' wheat production is now forecast at 38,850,000 bushels. Last year 31,416,000 bushels of wheat were produced in Texas. Yield is expected to average 21 bushels per acre, the same as last year. Planted acres are estimated at 3,652,000, up four per cent from the 3,512,000 acres seeded for the 1971 crop.

SCREW WORM infestations are the worst in Texas since 1968, and by the end of the year they could be the heaviest since the eradication program began 10 years ago. Screwworm infestations are five times higher now than a year ago. Not much, if any, relief is expected until freezing weather.

Livestock producers are urged to check their livestock regularly, delay surgery on livestock if all possible, treat all wounds on livestock for screwworm control, and submit suspected samples of screwworms to the fly laboratory at Mission, Texas for verification. About 200 million sterile screwworm flies are being produced weekly now at the Mission plant.

MILK PRODUCTION in Texas is up three per cent from a year ago for the month of April. Milk production per cow kept for milk averaged 830 pounds per cow for the month of April. This is 25 pounds above a year earlier and 30 pounds above the previous month.

Here's good news for peach eaters. The Texas peach production is now expected to be 542,000 bushels; this is more than five times the 104,000 bushels produced in 1971.

County Agent's Notes

Fire Blight Damages Pears

By Bill McCutchen

Fire blight is causing considerable damage to the pear crop in Milam County this year. I have been receiving calls and complaints on this topic for the past 3 months.

Weather conditions during bloom time were favorable for disease development, and as a result, "blossom blight" occurred. The blight has now progressed to the point that in some cases large limbs may be lost to this bacterial disease if control measures are not taken.

Symptoms of the disease include scorching and then rapid death of young leaves and twigs.

Control of this disease is both a combination of chemical and cultural control. Variety selection is important. The Keiffer and Orient have some tolerance to the blight, the Bartlett is highly susceptible, and other varieties are intermediate in susceptibility.

Excessive levels of nitrogen should not be used around pears as it stimulates succulent growth which is highly susceptible to the disease.

Chemical control is difficult since three to four sprays are required at 14 day intervals beginning at bloom. Even though this prime spraying time is past, spray applications may be warranted if the blossom blight is progressing down to larger limbs.

COTTON INSECT CONTROL
Thrip damage to cotton has been rather heavy over the entire county this year and many producers have been spraying between the rains. With the recent moisture and warmer weather the cotton has been outgrowing the thrip damage in many instances without insecticide use.

We are now approaching the critical time for fleahopper damage. Cotton fields should be checked for fruit-set. Starting with the 5th limb formed on the plant, check for squares. If 50 percent are being set, no control is necessary. If less than 50 percent are being set and there is a substantial population of fleahoppers present, control measures need to be applied.

Charles L. Cole, Extension Area Entomologist says, "that Pheromone boll weevil trap catches at A&M indicate a decrease in the number of overwintered weevils this year as compared to last year". He says, that catches have slowed during stormy weather, and should pick up slightly after a few warm, dry days.

A few weevils are being found in fields all over the area with some locally heavy populations near prime overwintering areas. If populations become established I would encourage producers to spot spray for the boll weevil. This will delay and could prevent infestations of the whole field.

Cotton Is Leader In Clothing

HART

"Momentum is going for cotton," a leader of the industry declared today in calling for support of the USDA-National Cotton Council campaign to achieve "Better Yields of Quality Cotton for Profit and Market Growth."

Ray Joe Riley of Hart said cotton is the leader in the trend to more casual clothing and pointed out that cotton denim, corduroys, prints, etc., are "going strong."

Riley and Dr. John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, are co-chairman of the "Better Yields" campaign in Texas.

Riley said that providing adequate supplies will let cotton's mill customers cash in on its popularity and encourage them to keep using it. He noted that adequate supplies also are needed to restore customer confidence in the ability of growers to meet market needs.

"Better yields of quality fiber express the grower's determination to compete and protect his dollar-per-acre investment in research and promotion," Riley said.

"Textile demand is increasing worldwide. It more than doubled in the past 20 years. Cotton's ability to share in this growth, halt the swing to man-made fibers, and discourage foreign production depends on an adequate supply and profitable farm production."

SCS NEWS

The purpose of fencing in a livestock enterprise is to exclude livestock from areas that should be protected from grazing.

Other uses of fences would include dividing land to permit controlled grazing in a rotation system and to protect new planted grasses from grazing until establishment.

The acres in each pasture or size of the pastures should be in balance when possible. The stocking rate can be figured so the same number of animal units can be moved or rotated together in a planned rotation grazing system.

When several small pastures are involved with large pastures, it is almost impossible to properly manage the grazing by rotation. The small pastures will normally be over used and providing livestock water to each pasture becomes difficult.

Fences bordering cultivated land should be constructed with the wire on the pasture side of the post. Using this method will prevent livestock from pushing staples loose within the fence. Good fences properly located can be a key management tool for livestock farming.

For further information on fencing for a planned rotation system, contact your local Soil Conservation Service or Soil Conservation District Director.

Production Noted On Texas Crops

AUSTIN

A one-third increase in citrus production, an 85 per cent decline in peach production, and a decline to fifth place in pecan production are among production figure results for 1971 in Texas, according to Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Texas dropped to fifth place in 1971 in production of all pecans because of the poor crop of only 23 million pounds. In 1970, by comparison, Texas was second in the nation in Pecan production with 38 million pounds.

Texas' total citrus production for 1970-71 is set at 16.3 million boxes, 33 per cent of the total citrus crop.

Three counties in the Rio Grande Valley produce 99 per cent of the Texas' total. Hidalgo County produced 84 per cent of the total, Cameron County is in second place.

Nationwide, Texas ranked third in the nation in 1970-71 in production of early, midseason and navel oranges. Texas ranked fourth in production of Valencia oranges, and the state was second in the nation in grapefruit production.

Peach production in 1971 of 104,000 bushels is only 15 per cent of the 1970 crop. Weather conditions, especially a mild winter, was given as the major reason for the decline in peach production in 1971.

The Informed Consumer

At this time of the year many high school seniors are considering their futures and the part that additional education may play there in. Many, of course, will elect to go on to a college or university of their choice. But many will elect to attend a vocational or trade school.

Both are excellent choices provided the students carefully select the school which they plan to attend. To those seniors deciding to continue their education in a trade school or vocational school, and to other persons deciding to go back to school, my Consumer Protection Division offers these words of advice:

Most vocational and trade schools conducted in Texas are reputable honest establishments. While this has been true for some time, an Act known as the Proprietary School Act passed by the Texas Legislature at its last session and administered by the Texas Education Agency has greatly improved the situation. This Act provides for licensing, bonding, and regulation of trade schools, but prospective students should not rely solely on state regulation of such institutions. They should make a thorough investigation before they decide on a school.

We have reports where some of these schools have closed their doors after receiving tuition payments from prospective students. They have either gone broke or moved from the State and there is no way the student can recover the money.

We have received complaints of substandard instruction offered by some schools.

One of the prime rules for interested persons to follow when thinking of enrolling in a school is to avoid high pressure tactics requiring immediate enrollment. Some salesmen will state that failure to enroll immediately will result in the inability of the prospective student ever to enter their school. Remember -- legitimate schools always allow sufficient time for investigation of their facilities, training programs, and the quality of their instruction.

Prospective students should carefully check the terms of the enrollment contract prior to signing. These terms should be thoroughly understood. What provisions are made for cancellation by the student? Is he able to receive his tuition back and if so, what amount and under what conditions?

You should remember that the written provisions of the contract control over the oral representations made by the salesman. If there is ambiguity in the contract or doubt on the part of the student as to the meaning of the language of the contract, this should be resolved in writing prior to signing the contract.

In some instances we have found that unscrupulous salesmen made exaggerated promises concerning job opportunities either while attending school or after graduation. Prospective students should be aware of the fact that a placement service does not guarantee them a job.

Cameron, Texas, Herald, May 25, 1972 Page 5

Finally, the trade schools general reputation is of utmost importance. If there is a Better Business Bureau in the town in which the school is located, you should check with them prior to signing any contract. If there is no such bureau, ask for the names of several former students. You should then contact these people and get their opinion of the school. While this takes extra time the caution is well worth the delay involved. If the school is legitimate, it will be there tomorrow. If not, the time to find out is before turning over the tuition money.

Announcing the end of woman's grubbier job.

Amazing new gas oven ends scrubbing.

You can cook with this over 365 days a year and never have to scrub it. Because it actually cleans itself as it cooks! Think what this means.

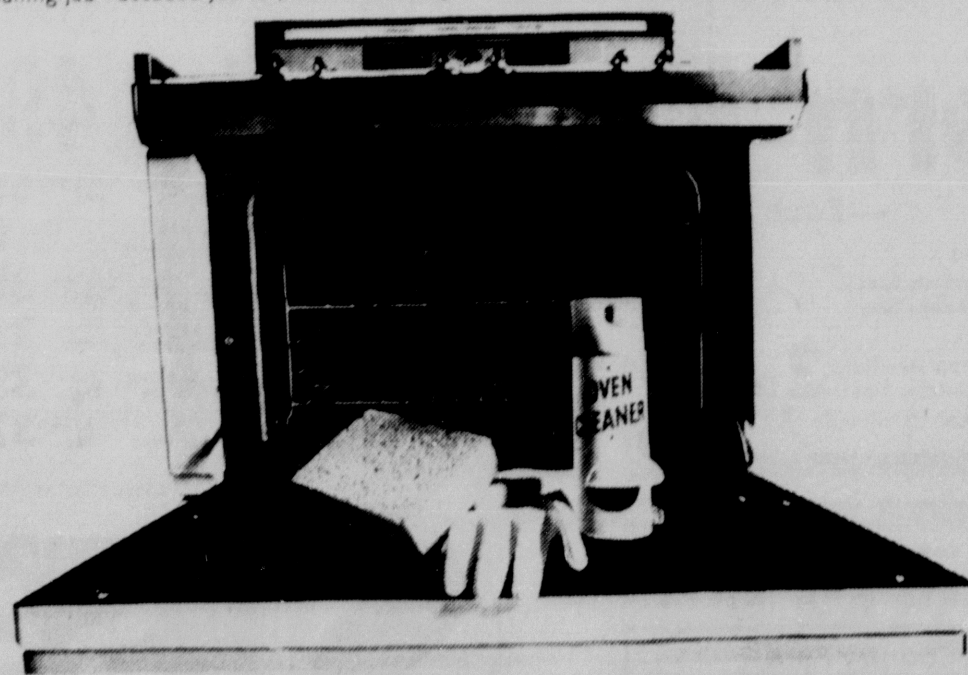

Never again will you have to go through the grimy job of scrubbing an oven (most women hate this job more than any other).

Never again will you have to face an all-day cleaning job—because you've put it off too long.

The gas continuous cleaning oven is just one of many exciting features on today's gas ranges. See them at your appliance dealer, or Lone Star Gas.

And cross your grubbier job off your list. Forever.

Just a beginning

"I'm never going to open another book again!" sighed Pete as he collapsed in my chair following his high school commencement.

But three months later, Pete had changed his tune and was ready for college.

Since then, he's had other graduations—from college, from medical school. Each time Pete has discovered that it isn't all over when you graduate. Something is just beginning.

Some people want to "graduate" from church at a certain age or time. They're just like Pete was when he left high school. They think they've outgrown the Church.

How empty Pete's life would be now if he had stopped at that first graduation. How empty your life would be without the Church.

Maybe it isn't all over for you! The church doors are always open.
